Sustainable for Generations

The most environmentally friendly flooring available are authentic wood floors. Trees are a renewable resource and provide flooring that is sustainable for many generations. All Viking Hardwood Flooring products are made with raw material originating from sustainably managed forests.

Our Urban Rustic collection of engineered hardwood flooring is designed around a specific selection of European Oak Timber. Select forests yield a continual crop of mature oaks which have grown in perfect conditions on untouched soils for centuries. Older trees are carefully removed leaving their branches and foliage on the forest floor to feed the younger trees. From these old oaks, a piece of artistry is created with a reclaimed feel. A grade with natural character for the most authentic timeless floor.

* Please remember that one of the beautiful properties of wood is that it is a product of nature and natural variations in color and grain pattern are to be expected. These color swatches are provided to assist you with general color selection and appearance but will not show all the Characteristics of the final installed product. Multiple sample boards or a full carton of material will give you a more accurate representation.
